

The Focal Point LLC

Trial tech services from preparation to presentation

Because each of our trial technology experts has worked on over 50 trials, arbitrations, Markman hearings, and focus groups, we know what works in the courtroom and what does not. We collaborate with you on every phase of your case and we're there when you need us—from the very beginning of your trial preparation to last-minute changes in your closing argument.

Digital evidence consultation

We help you organize your case materials, provide tips and assistance for working with e-discovery vendors, and suggest ways to save time and money in the long run as you prepare for trial.

Video deposition clip review and creation

We create time-coded PDF transcripts of your video deposition designations that allow you to make the best use of your presentation's time constraints.

Trial database creation

We construct a courtroom presentation database that allows for seamless retrieval and display of all types of evidence, including trial exhibits, video depositions, litigation graphics, and animations.

Comprehensive courtroom display capabilities

We manage your entire courtroom presentation using the latest technology and equipment, including coordinating setup and breakdown with the court.

Trial presentation

Throughout your trial, we work with your team to rehearse, refine, and present your opening statement, witness examinations, and closing argument.
